Nyai Mandala Sari and the Emory Gamelan

Catrik (Apprentice)
Kunang Kunang (Firefly)
Galatik Mungut (Nodding Bird)
Kulu Kulu

Emory Chinese Music Ensemble

Ji Niu Nai ("Milking the Cow")
Zi Zhu Diao (Purple Bamboo Tune)
Xiao Xiao Zhu Pai (Small Bamboo Raft)
Fengyang Huagu (Fengyang Flower Drum)

Emory South Indian Music Ensemble

Anandamrutha Karshini
Mapala Velasika
Gopalaka Pahimam

Emory Kayagum Ensemble

Arirang
Kayagum Sanjo (Sung Geum Ryun style)
Amazing Grace

Emory North Indian Music Ensemble

Raag Yaman
Raag Pilu

Kayagum sanjo (Kang Tae Hong style)
Yoo Soon Hyung, kayagum
Kim Young Eun, changgu

Vathapi Ganapathim Bhaje
Composed by Muthuswamy Dikshitar (1775-1835)
Ragam Hamsadhwani; Adi talam
T. S. Nandakumar and Santosh Chandru, mridangam
Ramesh Panchagnula, violin

Koong—Emory Samul Nori

Dong Salpuri
Yŏungnam Nongak
Hwimori

Jung Moon Young is from Duluth, Georgia and is a sophomore at Emory College. She is majoring in biology and is on the executive board for the Korean Undergraduate Student Association. She gained interest in gamelan after taking a seminar in Drums and Gongs of Asia. She enjoys photography and the outdoors.

Kim Ji Hui is a junior at Emory College and is originally from South Korea. She has been playing the violin and piano since third grade and was the concert master of her high school orchestra; currently, she plays the keyboard on her local church's praise team. She is a major in International Relations.

Lee Hyeon Ju is a junior at the Emory Goizueta Business School and also majors in music (ethnomusicology). She is from South Korea, plays the flute, and is currently leading the gamelan ensemble. Hyeon Ju has experienced different musical traditions in China, Indonesia and Japan through her travels, and began to learn Korean percussion and both the Central and West Javanese gamelan traditions when she came to Emory.

Joshua Lee is from Atlanta, Georgia. He is a Biology major and is pursuing a career in Dentistry. He has played violin for over ten years and likes watching football on Sundays.

Joyce Lee is a junior at the Emory College. She is pursuing a major in Biology and a minor in Music. Originally from New York, she has always had a passion for music and has continued to play clarinet and piano since she was young. She is currently vice president of a human rights organization called Liberty in North Korea and is a member of UNICEF as well as Minority Pre-med Society.

Clara Lee Sun Ju is a senior at Emory College and is a major in Sociology. Clara has been playing the gamelan since her first year at Emory. In addition to her musical activities, Clara practices taekwondo and sits on the Executive Board of the Korean Undergraduate Student Association.